STRAWBERRIES

PLANT	Plant in early spring in a sunny spot in the ground or in containers, 8-14 inches apart, with the soil above the roots and below the leaves, preferably adding compost to enrich the soil.
GROW	Cut off the runners, and remove the first flowers if the plants are still small, so the plant's energy focuses on root and berry production. Try planting the runners elsewhere to grow new plants. Keep soil moist (not soggy) and weed-free. Mulching reduces water needs and weeds. Plants usually produce fruit for a few years.
EAT	Berries are usually ready 4-6 weeks after flowering. Pick ripe red berries regularly. Cut by stem- don't pull the berry.
